Inclusive Education: An International Perspective

One of the largest reforms in the school systems of European countries and worldwide is inclusive schooling. All over the world enrollment of students with special educational needs (SEN) in regular classrooms is rising and at the same time the proportion of students with SEN in segregated school settings is declining (in most countries). Despite a significant push to implement inclusive education across countries, its practical implementation is limited in most of the countries. There are huge variations across countries in the way they are attempting to implement inclusion in the region as well as unique challenges that each country faces.

This conference aims at giving insights into inclusive education in different countries. Keynote speeches will be given by four well-known international researchers.

Conference participation is free of charge. To be able to plan and organise the conference in time, please complete the online registration form before 10 December 2019:
